The image displays a piece of silk crush fabric. The top portion is a solid, deep blue color with a fine, repeating pattern. Below this, the fabric transitions into a bright red background. This red section is densely decorated with a variety of colorful motifs, including stylized flowers in white, yellow, and blue, and animals such as white and blue deer or gazelles. The patterns are intricate and traditional in style. The fabric is laid out on a light-colored, possibly white, surface.
