Paper Silk

A piece of coral-colored fabric, likely a saree or a long skirt, is laid flat on a light grey tiled floor. The fabric has a subtle, embossed floral pattern. A decorative border of small, dark, round beads is applied to the bottom edge and forms a series of vertical, slightly curved lines that create a diamond-like pattern. A white, rounded rectangular label with the text "Paper Silk" is positioned in the center-left of the fabric.

Paper Silk

A stack of bright pink fabric, likely paper silk, is shown. The fabric is decorated with intricate gold sequin patterns, including a large circular motif near the top and several vertical, curved lines of sequins. The fabric is folded and stacked, with the top layer showing the sequin designs. The background is a light-colored, reflective surface.
